FOR TRADE

FROM BUSINESS INFORMATION TO BUSINESS INTELLIGENCE

Drive your business and take the right decisions based on our business intelligence tools

In these times of uncertainty, companies need visibility on the financial health and solvency of their customers and suppliers. The main challenge, when it comes to business information, remains the reliability and freshness of it. Indeed, data need to be accurate, qualified, contextualized and up-to-date to be useful.

Business information is at the core of the activity of a credit insurer. Coface protects 50,000 companies worldwide against the risk of non-payment, for over 75 years. Coface therefore evaluates the risk as accurately as possible relying on its expertise, its international network and the work of its credit analysts.

The Coface Group has decided to put its expertise at the service of companies by launching a new offer of Business Information with high added value, enabling them to prevent and anticipate risks, to support decision-making and to steer their activity by seizing new opportunities.

"You have to be certain of your convictions to take 10,000 underwriting decisions a day in a constantly changing environment"

Xavier Durand,
Coface CEO
